Republican Politicians Are Somewhat Surprised at Cousins' Candidacy for a Third Term.

Matters political came to a show down n the sheriff's office yesterday afternoon with the result that Deputy Ed Canning was summarily given his walking papers by Captain Cousins. Canning's enforced retirement from the position which he has held ever since Captain Cousins assumed the office of sheriff in January, 1900, created considerable surprise at the court house and in local republican circles. Canning's summary dismissal followed a private conference between him and Sherhad been reported in the papers, the sooner he quit the office the better. Canning assured the captain that he was a candidate and had every intention of staying in the field. "Well," replied Sheriff Cousins, "if you are a candidate you are against me and I will not have any man working for me who is against me." Deputy Canning assured the captain that he was not against Harold Egbert, charged with the theft of meat from a Broadway grocery store, was discharged in police court yesterday morning. It was generally supposed that this pledge would be kept and the rank and file of the party was only kept in line last fall by this understanding.

Friends of Deputy Canning, who for a number of years has been a prominent firemen were obliged to knock a hole in the factor in local politics and who is chairman of the city republican central committee, assert that three years ago when Captain Cousins announced his candidacy pouring from the windows of the bank first for the office of sheriff that Mr. Canning could have then secured the nomination, but that he withdrew in favor of Captain posed to have been responsible for the Cousins on the distinct understanding that at the end of the captain's second term, ing was a small frame atructure, and the that Mr. Canning, in return for withdraw

That there was reprehensible That there was reprehensible negict in hot getting soundings and that this neglect is especially noticeable in not getting the soundings when in plain sight of Montauk Point. A sounding at this time would have been of great assistance and of greater accuracy than the one adopted in estimating the distance by eye alone. The court found that no one was at fault except the commanding officer, but it alluded to his trying position and his admirable conduct after the grounding and recommended that he be given a letter of reprimand and no further proceedings be

ning Mate Will Come from the West and Think lows

Man Is Strong.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19 .- (Special Telegram.) Governor Cummins will be a candidate for the nomination for the vice presidency before the next national republican convention. From facts which came to light today from the most authentic sources in Iowa this has been determined and the Iowa delegation will fight to a finish for the governor. It is also believed that the Nebraska delegation will support his candidacy, as three years ago it stood ready to indorse him if his name had been brought

The situation has been cleared by the assertion of a prominent man that Secretary of the Treasury Shaw will not be a candidate, as reported a few weeks ago, and therefore Governor Cummins will have a clear field in his state. This man declares that be has confidential but positive knewledge on this point.

While it is known that Governor Cummins is not a candidate in the sense of seeking the nomination, the authority already quoted says it is certain he would not refuse the honor. - The governor's friends believe he would be a most suitable running mate for President Koosevelt, who, it is conceded in lows, will head the ticket. The man referred to declares he has posttive assurances that Mr. Roosevelt has not expressed any preference as to his running mate, and this adds to the belief that the governor has more than an even chance of securing the honor.

It is pointed out by the latter's friends that geographical requirements will bring the vice presidential nomination to the west, where the governor is popular.
